

For Immediate Release –

An unfortunate circumstance happened at the Canadian Home Builders Association Awards Ceremony on February 1, 2013. The award for the most energy efficient home was not awarded to the home that it should have been. After the ceremony, it was discovered that there was a software glitch which miscalculated the results and gave the award to the wrong home. Thankfully, the CHBA was able to correctly calculate the results and are to be able to award Greener Homes Ltd. the award of Most Energy Efficient Home for 2012. A special ceremony will be held on April 23, 2013 to formally recognize Greener Homes Ltd. for their accomplishment.
